2nd November 2016

Dear Parents & Students,

Great Trinity Ghost Lecture, Thursday 17th November at 7.30pm in the Ratcliffe Hall, Upper Site.

"I have wandered far.
I have journeyed all the way to the sources of the sea."
The ghost, one shadow deeper than the rest, moved forward.
"I have walked where the abyss is deepest.
I have been shown the Gates of Death.
I have met those who hold the keys to the Shadowlands."

Have you met a ghost? Well here's your chance! On Thursday 17th November the Great Trinity Ghost lecture will be staged in the Ratcliffe Hall where I shall recount ghostly and ghastrly tales from all times and all cultures. I truly hope to frighten all who come. Admission is £2.00. There will be tea, coffee and a glass of wine on offer. I will also raffle signed copies of my novels. All proceeds will go to the school fund. Tickets can be reserved by contacting my PA Mrs Sally Parry on: sally_parry@fc.tchs.uk.net or can be purchased on Parentpay: www.parentpay.com I look forward to meeting you there.

Free DVDs. As parents may know I am an author, I write historical mysteries for Hodder Headline and for Severn House. My books appear in many forms, print, ebook and audio. I am writing about the latter. I receive free audio copies of my different novels. I have no real use for them and I wonder if any member of the community knows if they can be useful to anybody who has impaired sight or prefers to listen rather than read. If so, you are most welcome to one of these free of charge. Anyone interested should contact my PA Sally Parry as soon as possible.

Kindest regards,

Dr P.C. Doherty OBE
Headmaster
